Dear Friends,

This past year has been very challenging for all of us. We were on the verge of celebrating Mothers' Day and then we were all locked down. We have been presented every day with figures of those suffering from Covid-19 and those who have succumbed. We showed our appreciation of the NHS by standing at our front door applauding them each Thursday night. Many folk have had the feeling of a loss of control and the inability to see light at the end of the tunnel. As I write this, we are coming out of another lockdown which hopefully will mean people can have the opportunity to prepare for and celebrate Christmas.

In the midst of all this we remember that God is present. 'Emmanuel' literally means 'God with us' seen so decisively in the coming of the Christ child. Therein lies the hope we long for. A baby in a manger who was to be our Saviour and is today. The promise to the disciples and us is 'Lo, I am with you always'. Saint John in his opening chapter of his Gospel tells us: 'He came unto His own'. This is not some one-off event, but a truth and reality of this very day.

I am acutely aware of the pain, the difficulties of the situation we are in today, the worry and uncertainty. Please be assured that in all of this, my prayers are with you. Our church leaders are keeping all of us in their prayers and thoughts.

Here is a little prayer put out by the Church of England:

*Keep us, good Lord,
under the shadow of your mercy
in this time of uncertainty and distress.
Sustain and support the anxious and fearful,
and lift up all who are brought low;
that we may rejoice in your comfort
knowing that nothing can separate us from your love in Christ Jesus our Lord. Amen.*

(Other helpful prayers can be found at via the Church of England's website and Daily Hope - links below).

I send you warmest thoughts, prayers and blessings for the Christmas season, and our prayers are to look forward to 2021 with much hope and that assurance that 'God is with us' – Emmanuel!

Book Group

There will be no Book Group in December since the last Friday of the month falls on 25th December and something else is happening that day!

We hope you all get lots of fab new books in your Christmas stockings.

Our January gathering will be on Friday 29th from 2pm - 4pm.

We look forward to hearing about the books you've enjoyed most in 2020 as well as the books you've just read and would love others to read as well.

It's too early to say whether the January meet-up will be on Zoom again or in person. Nicky will email everyone on her mailing list nearer the time to confirm. If you're not on Nicky's mailing list and would like to be kept informed about Book Group gatherings and other book news, please get in touch:

As a limited group of 6 we enjoyed meeting from the beginning of July. Now, like everyone else we are in lockdown and will not be meeting until December - we hope! Once we are 'back to normal' we hope to enlarge our group and invite tutors on a regular basis. Until then we try to wield our brushes in as artistic a way as possible. Thanks to Brian Holdstock for enabling us to use the lovely pavilion. In the meantime we hope everyone takes care to stay safe.

The Coffee Stop

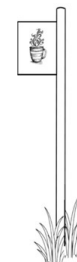

Unfortunately due to the continuation of government restrictions on gatherings we will not be planning any Coffee stop meetings for the rest of 2020.

Chapel News

Firstly let me apologise to those of you that couldn't log in to our Chapel Zoom Service last month. Unfortunately there was an error with the log in number it should have read 410 783 0582 and the password is Fay. Details are also always in The Post, which is Ashburnham Church's email newsletter.

By the time you read this we will hopefully be out of 'lock-down' but of course one never knows! However, the 'lock-down' was a good time to reflect on all the good things Our Lord does for us. Malachi 3v10 says "Put Me to the test and you will see that I will open the windows of heaven and pour out on you in abundance all kinds of good things." God has provided a world of sunshine and starshine, fields and seas, rivers and mountains. He has blessed you with life and breath, with thoughts, abilities, and a heart turned toward knowing and loving Him. Thank Him, and He says, "My beloved, you haven't seen anything yet." There is so much more! There's no end to what God can and wants to do.

With all good things, God is a God of abundance.

May His blessings and peace be yours, sent to you from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord. Ephesians 1v2 TLB

We will be holding the Chapel Carol Service on Zoom on the 6th December at 7pm. Do try and join us because you will actually be able to join in the Carols! So a good chance to sing your favourites.

From all of us at Ashburnham Chapel, have a wonderful Christmas whether it is with friends and wider family (if that is allowed) or just with your household. Remember how lucky we are to have a safe home, enough food and warmth, no worries about wars or earthquakes, so give a thought to the refugees all over the world where war, conflict and even earthquakes have made them homeless and Christmas will be a very bleak time for them.

Fay

Parish Magazine

At the end of this unusual year I would like to thank everyone who makes the Parish Magazine possible, Ashburnham Church for underwriting the costs; the team of proofreaders for spotting my frequent typos; all those who send articles or updates; Fay for handling all the advertising and especially those who deliver the magazine to all the households in our villages. I hope the magazine continues to be useful, informative and entertaining. I wish all our readers a Happy Christmas and all the best for 2021!

Jay Ashworth

Parish Council News

Remembrance Sunday was marked in a way which until only a few days beforehand seemed beyond reach. However, mid week the rules changed (again) and some 70 people assembled in front of the cricket pavilion for a service that was as moving as it always is. The fine weather was the icing on the cake. An application for road closure had been refused this year so there was no option but to stand inside the grounds. The question that will now be asked is whether this format, standing in front of the pavilion, but behind the war memorial, is preferable to standing in the road (which is normally closed) and in front of the memorial. If you were there you can expect to be asked for your view.

It is the time of year when the Parish Council takes stock of its financial position, forecasts the outcome at 31st March 2021 and puts together a budget for the financial year 2021/22. At the November meeting the first draft of the budget is tabled and at the January meeting a budget is formally adopted and the precept (the amount collected with Council Tax) is set for the year.

Council meetings are on the last Wednesday of alternate months (next is 27 January 2021) and the Planning Committee (if required) meets on the last Wednesday of intervening months.

All meetings are in public and members of the public are encouraged to attend. There is an agenda slot near the start of the meeting for members of the public to address the Council. The agenda is published online at the village web site three clear days before the meeting and hard copy is put on the notice boards at The Chapel and Penhurst Granary.

A summary of currently undecided or recently determined planning applications is on the 'Planning' page at the village web site. It contains a link to the Rother DC planning portal if you want to view documents.

What a year it's been... unprecedented, uncertain, lockdown, furlough... a few words we've heard a lot. For some there's been stress, exhaustion, illness, loss of loved ones, or livelihoods. Looking forward, what will Christmas be like? Will we will be able to gather with family and friends?

In the midst of uncertainty, God offers to be with us. Christmas celebrates the birth of Christ, and Matthew 1:23 says "The virgin will conceive and give birth to a son, and they will call him Immanuel (which means "God with us")". Whatever you are facing in these days, why not talk to God about it and ask him to be with you?

We hope to re-open and hold our Advent retreats as planned in December – do keep an eye on the website and Facebook page for updates. Our 2021 led retreats are also being updated on the website, so why not have a look and see if anything appeals to you.

We hope to see you soon. In the meantime, all of us here at Penhurst Retreat Centre wish you a peaceful and healthy Christmas and a blessed New Year.

Online Carol Services and Concerts

At the time of writing, we don't know whether we can gather together to sing carols. Even if some gatherings are permitted it's likely that many of us will choose not to go out and will instead rely on services that we can watch and join in with at home. Many cathedrals and churches are streaming carol services online and charities are planning carol concerts to join in with at home. I have gathered a few ideas here with the links you will need but do keep looking online nearer the time as I am sure more and more will be added.

Chichester Cathedral will be live-streaming Carol Services during Christmas week, details will be on their website nearer the time
<https://www.chichestercathedral.org.uk/worship>

Canterbury Cathedral will be holding a series of services you can watch at home, details will be posted here <https://www.canterbury-cathedral.org>

St Martin in the Fields in Trafalgar Square is holding Carol Concerts some of which involve a ticket price but they also livestream their daily prayer services online free. <https://www.stmartin-in-the-fields.org>

Holy Trinity Brompton hold a variety of services online regularly and are planning Christmas services too <https://www.htb.org/athome>

Holy Trinity Hastings is a local church which also holds services online, you can see the details here, <https://hthcurch.org>

Why not look up some familiar faces online? Preston Minster is a church where Rachel Gardner (nee Earwicker, Charles & Lynne's daughter) and her husband work. As well as services they have a great youth stream with sessions on youtube for young people. <https://www.prestonminster.org>

Rev Francis Cumberlege preaches at his local church and you can hear his sermons via this link, <https://www.allsaintsmilford.co.uk>

Country Living Magazine has made a list of 10 concerts including events by charities such as the Alzheimer's Society and Marie Curie which are free. There are some ticketed events such as a concert for Carers Trust - for a £10 donation you can enjoy readings from Emma Thompson and Hugh Bonneville and carols sung by the City of London Choir. The full list can be found here <https://www.countryliving.com/uk/news/a34615142/virtual-christmas-carol-concerts/>

Covid 19 Information Page

As this magazine goes to press we are still in lockdown, by the time the next magazine comes out in February there might have been several changes to the rules and regulations. So, please keep in touch with all the latest updates by using the following websites and the local Parish Council phone number if you need help or more information.

Stay safe!

It is clear that things might change so please keep checking the government website for up to date details.

Recycling Garden Waste Bin Offer

Rother are offering their Garden Waste Bin service at £20 if you subscribe before 31st December, which takes you through until 14th July 2021. Head to the Rother website for more information: <https://www.rother.gov.uk/rubbish-and-recycling/garden-waste/subscribe-to-the-garden-waste-service/>

Christmas Trees

Rother customers who pay for brown bin collections can place trees into their brown bins, if the branches have been cut up first. Don't leave whole trees next to your brown bin, they can't be collected.

If you have a compost heap you can compost a real Christmas tree but it will need chopping up into smaller pieces first! Alternatively, you can take your tree to the nearest tip. If you have an artificial tree you no longer need and it is in a suitable condition, you can give it away or sell secondhand. Otherwise you can take it to the tip for recycling. Happy Christmas and happy recycling!

Christmas Reflections from The Church of England

A light amidst the difficulties of this year has been the way people have cared for each other with generosity and courage. Cynicism about community has often been overwhelmed by love for neighbour.

It has been stressful and anxious, but we have not shut ourselves off from each other. There have been countless wonderful acts of kindness and care, often sacrificial ones.

We've seen these acts of goodness in health and in care, we've seen them in the community and in our neighbourhoods. Most often they have come not from power or position but from love and vulnerability.

That's exactly the sort of love we celebrate at Christmas. Love that gets its hands dirty. Love that is open and generous. One that, without great ceremony, makes a difference.

May we find that love, God's love in Jesus Christ, this Christmas. May we share that love, God's love in us, this Christmas. And as we receive, and as we give, may we know the comfort and the joy that is God's gift to us.

Archbishop Justin Welby

God of comfort and joy, may we know your presence with us today and bring your gentle, joyful love to others, this Christmas and always. Amen.

In Mary's poem (Luke 1:46-55) and the carol, Hark the Herald Angels Sing, we don't read much of comfort. Rather we experience the palpable joy of worship, followed by the vision of God throwing the values of our broken world upside down to reveal his revolutionary plans for his kingdom.

This is not comfortable. But, when we reflect on the past year, I doubt many of us have had a comfortable year riding the Coronavirus storm. For God's comfort does not come from a lofty distant height, but from his light and life breaking into our mess to demonstrate a better way.

As we look back on a year where our world has turned upside down, we can decide again which values we are going to prioritise going forward into 2021.

How can we lift up the lowly, fill the hungry and remember mercy?

During lockdown I regularly shared posts with the hashtag #ThankfulNotFearful. The poem of our lives needs to start from a place of thankfulness - and of praise.

Jonathan Bryan

Except for a Boxing Day ramble, I try to avoid going for a walk. But somehow I found myself doing the Camino de Santiago pilgrimage in 2016. I soon developed a loathing for my rucksack. It was heavy, so heavy.

Eventually I worked out that standing near a fence I could allow the weight to be taken from my shoulders for a moment, until I was ready to trudge onwards.

Life's path is never easy, and this year it's felt all uphill and the rucksacks on our backs too heavy to carry. The carol quoted below sums this up, urging us to remember that despite everything God's love, revealed through the baby in the manger, is present, even if just now it's difficult to comprehend. It's the same unquenchable light mentioned in John 1:1-5 too; the light of life.

When our walk becomes weary, it helps to know that we never need to take a step of it alone. And to trust that, when we do eventually get to lay our burden down, the view will make it all worthwhile.

Rev Kate Bottley

... And ye, beneath life's crushing load,
Whose forms are bending low,
Who toil along the climbing way
With painful steps and slow:
Look now, for glad and golden hours
Come swiftly on the wing;
O rest beside the weary road,
And hear the angels sing.
It came upon the midnight clear by Edmund Sears

God of love, you are the beginning and the end.
You hold our past and light our future. May we find our rest in you today
and trust you for all that will be. Amen.

Lord of light and life, as we prepare for a new year, fill our hearts with praise and hope as we, with you and one another, seek to bring your kingdom to our world. Amen.

Lessons and Carols for Christmas', The Church of England's Christmas Campaign.
